40C - LUCIANO DAKOTA

New Directions in Anthropology. Jacqueline Waldren, Research Associate at the Institute of Social and Cultural Anthropology, Oxford University and Director, Deia Archaeological Museum and Research Centre, Mallorca. Migration, modernization, technology, tourism, and global communication have had dynamic effects on group identities, social values and conceptions of space, place, and politics.

This book presents new directions in contemporary anthropological dream research, surveying recent theorizations of dreaming that are developing both in and outside of anthropology. It incorporates new findings in neuroscience and philosophy of mind while demonstrating that dreams emerge from and comment on sociohistorical and cultural contexts.

New Directions in Environment and Anthropology will be important for all scholars and non-academics interested in the relation between our species and its biotic and built environments. It is also designed for classroom use in and beyond anthropology, and students will be greatly assisted by suggested reading lists for their further exploration of general concepts and specific research.

New Directions in the Anthropology of Christianity. Welcome to New Directions in the Anthropology of Christianity (formerly, AnthroCyBib). Since 2011, we have served as a digital scholarship resource for the anthropological and interdisciplinary study of Christianity. To accompany the launch of a new book series with Bloomsbury press, we have redesigned our digital home to more effectively host and advance scholarly dialogue.

This book presents essays pointing toward a number of possible new directions - both theoretical and methodological - for anthropological inquiry into migration and multiculturalism, including innovative ways of examining diversity discourses, urban conditions, social complexities, scales of analysis, transnational marriages, entangled politics and interwoven cultures.

Reviewed by Jon Bialecki (University of California, San Diego/University of Edinburgh). When Anthro-

CyBib started out, its mission was to index and disseminate academic materials “contributing to, or in dialogue with” the Anthropology of Christianity.
