Attacking football is very much a secondary thought when parking the bus; it's all about frustrating the opposition and keeping a clean sheet. If the match ends 0-0, then so be it. The 4-5-1 formation is common when teams are parking the bus, as it provides two defensive rows of 4 and 4 players, with one man further forward who can close down the opposition when they have the ball in deeper positions.

Specific offensive strategies [edit | edit source] Using a combination of passing plays and running plays, the offense tries to gain the yards needed for a first down, touchdown, or field goal. Over the years several football coaches and offensive coordinators have developed some well-known and widely-used offensive strategies: Option offense
